Between Us

When the American Legion Auxiliary chose a member from their group to give the address of welcome to the Auxiliary at the Armistice Day program last Thursday surely they couldn't have chosen a lovelier lady and one with more poise than Marion Johnston. And we wondered how she sat so calmly during all the rain when even the men were getting restless.

And did you see Dr. Kennedy in his uniform? He looked the part. Perhaps never was more erect; and perhaps we proud of our people who are really doing things?—And from the looks of our calendar for the past few months.

Miss Monica Robinson spent several days last week with friends at Louisville.

These Firms are Building This Section--Trade With Them!

BULLOCH COUNTY BANK

A community measured to a large extent by the character of its principal banking institutions, and here in Stateboro the Bulloch County Bank reflects no little credit to this entire section.

Organized in 1934 this bank has steadily grown so manifest by the growth of their deposits and the management fully appreciates the confidence of the people, but they realize that this confidence also carries with it an obligation, and that to protect every dollar entrusted to them. They are members of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and all deposits are insured up to $5,000.

The active officers are S. W. Lewis, president; W. L. deJarnette, cashier; W. D. Anderson, assistant cashier. The directors are W. F. Rackley, Fred T. Lanier, R. J. Kennedy, J. L. Mathews and S. W. Lewis. These men are all residents of this section and naturally interested in the growth and development of it and they are always willing to co-operate in any manner that will be of benefit to this section.

This writer congratulates the people here on having the Bulloch County Bank in their midst.

AVERITT BROS. AUTO CO.

Always willing to co-operate in any project or movement that is calculated to be of benefit to Statesboro and this section. Avertit Brothers Auto Company are usefully taking part in this Eng-In-Statesboro campaign.

Avertit Brothers are dealers here for the Oldsmobile and the Pontiac—two outstanding products of General Motors.

Setting the style for America to follow Oldsmobile steps out ahead with daishing new style-leader styling. Oldsmobile sets the performance pace with its astounding new automatic safety transmission — the driving thrill of the year. It is no wonder that the new Oldsmobiles give you value sensations among quality cars.

And the 1938 Silver Streak Pontiac which is recognized everywhere as America's finest low-priced car is acclaimed the money over as "the most beautiful thing on wheels." And when you buy a Pontiac you get America's best recommended car.

See these beautiful Oldsmobiles and Pontiacs and Pontiac sights and Pontiac sights and sights on display at Avertit Brothers Auto Company.

SMITH BROS. IMPLEMENT CO.

John Deere, the name that stands for quality. It pays in many ways to patronize your John Deere dealer—you see before you buy, you get what you want when you want it. Payments will be set up properly, you are assured of satisfaction, you

FRANK SMITH HATCHERY

This business is home-owned and operated and Mr. Frank Smith, the owner who is a native of this section, is to be congratulated on having one of the most modern and up-to-date hatcheries in this section. The Frank Smith Hatchery have a 57,000-egg capacity and do custom hatching. They feature the well known Footlight line of dairy, poultry and horse fowls, and also dairy and poultry supplies.

Mr. Smith is always ready to take part in any project that will benefit Statesboro and this section. We congratulate the people on having him as our midst.

Newsy Notes From Nevils

Bulloch county, M. J. A. Addison is unselfishly taking part in this Buy-In-Statesboro campaign.

Mr. Addison has been in business here 25 years and during this time he has made hosts of friends by his care and square business dealings. He carries a complete stock of plumbing fixtures, electric fixtures and heaters of all kinds. He is dealer here in Statesboro for the display at J. A. Addison's.

A concern like J. A. Addison's would be a asset to any community—a firm that you have confidence in and that you know will treat you right.

Their line of Duo-Therm oil-burning circulating heaters are becoming more and more popular every day. This heater gives clean, regulated heat at a new economical price. Sen. Hughes

UPCHURCH GARAGE

BULLOCH WRECKING CO.

There are few cities the size of Statesboro that can boast of a garage as complete as the one Mr. J. F. Upchurch owns and operates. He has been in business here seven years, but his whole life has been practically spent in machine shops and big garages.

At this garage one will find all equipment modern and up-to-date, and a skillful analyzer, which locates motor trouble quickly. Best outfit for aligning frames, axles and wheel alignment.

They also do electric and acetylene welding and machine work of all kinds, in fact, any repair work will find Upchurch Garage well qualified to do it.

Body and fender repairing and painting are also done here at fair and square prices, and a wrecker service is maintained at all times.

The Bulloch Wrecking Company, of which Mr. R. W. Weaver is manager, is also an asset to this section, as they buy wrecked cars and sell second hand automobile parts. Mr. Upchurch is also interested in this firm.

The writer congratulates the people of this section for having the Upchurch Garage and Bulloch Wrecking Company in their midst.

TOP NOTCH INN

RACKLEY FEED & SEED COMPANY

A typical home-owned and home-operated business is the Rackley Feed & Seed Company, of which Mr. W. J. Rackley is owner and manager.

Mr. Rackley is a native of this section and he has been in the present business for eight years, although prior to that he was engaged in the drug business for 21 years, and he is now a very well liked throughout this entire section.

Carrying a complete line of out-horse; bulk feed seed and garden seed; poultry and dairy supplies and insecticides, the Rackley Feed & Seed Company have an enviable volume of business.

They also buy as much as possible from the local farmers such as hay, corn, peanuts, oats, in fact, all items such as these are bought at top market prices.

Some concern as this would be an asset to say nothing. Twice the

Between Us

We are always interested in what our girls are doing at college, and especially at this time of the year when the girls are receiving their letters from the different universities at T. C. It seems that some of our girls are getting so many bids they are in a quandary as to which sorority to join.

Frances Deal and Margaret Remington received two bids and Frances Hughes, whom we all know from Brooklet, two. However, I am sure they have enjoyed being rushed these past weeks with everything from Sunday night suppers to going to the movies.

Lola Mae Howard, visiting in Savannah, is going to the University of Georgia.

Mrs. M. L. Langford and her little daughter, Maurine, spent last week with her mother, Mrs. S. J. Proctor, here.

Mrs. Harry McElven and little daughter, Harry Jr., of Savannah, spent Thursday with her mother, Mrs. W. R. Woodcock.

Mrs. and Mrs. J. C. Collins and little daughter, Frances, of Collins, were guests of her mother, Mrs. E. H. Hodges, here.

Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Toliver, Mary Corneil and Theodosia Donaldson, of Albany, have returned to their home after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Proctor.

Mrs. J. L. Johnson motored to Lyons Wednesday and was accompanied by Miss Vera Johnson, who will spend the Thanksgiving holidays here with her parents.

Mrs. Robert Parker, of Savannah, and her uncle, H. A. Ernst, were here Monday and Tuesday to be with her father, B. W. Rustin, who is ill in the hospital with pneumonia.

Miss Sara Remington, who teaches at Nelson, will be at home for the week end and will have as her guests Miss Vera Lassiter, of Atlanta, and Miss Elizabeth Wicker, of Americus.

Mrs. W. Bruce Donaldson and his daughter, Donnie, spent last week end with Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Proctor. Mr. Donaldson came over for the week end and accompanied them home.

Mrs. P. B. H. Dudley, who has been visiting her brother, L. Johnson, and his family, left Wednesday for Oak Park to visit her sister, Mrs. L. A. Powell, before returning to her home in Jacksonville.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Proctor have as their Thanksgiving guests Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Stripling and sons, Bobbie and Billy, of Albany; Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Dexter, of Augusta, and Theodosia Donaldson, of Albany.

TUCKER-BRYAN

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Tucker announced the marriage of their daughter, Helen Kimball, to Oscar Bryan, of Brooklet, November 24. The marriage was solemnized in the study of the home in such a hurry that Rev. N. H. Williams, pastor of the church, had to perform the ceremony in a very short time.

For love divine which all may share, For mercies which the past displays, For guidance all along life's ways, For promised grace for future days, Give thanks.

Take time out to attend the services of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Tucker, Thanksgiving morning, 11 o'clock.

AROUND TOWN.

FOSTER-LANIER

The wedding of Mrs. Adolph J. Foster and Mrs. E. Lanier, of Brooklet, took place Sunday in Jacksonville. The ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock in the Riverside Primitive Baptist church, the Rev. F. T. Hartley, of Miami, officiating. Mrs. W. A. Humphries, of Orlando, was the bride's attendant, and Homer J. Foster, secretary.

Mr. Lanier, formerly of Statesboro, Ga., has been a resident of Orlando for the past three years. He is associated with the C. & H. Motor Co. and Mrs. Lanier will reside at 1003 East Jackson street, Orlando.

HODGES-CASON

Of interest to their friends is the marriage of Miss Mary Edna Hodges and Homer E. Cason, of Novato, Cal., 21, at the home of Elder A. E. Temple. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Hodges. She wore a suit of grey with accessories to match. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe G. Hodges. Immediately after the ceremony the couple left for a short wedding trip.

WILLING WORKERS

The Willing Workers of the Methodist Sunday school were entertained Friday afternoon by Mrs. J. E. Carruth and Mrs. E. Daniel at the home of Mrs. Carruth, at which time Mrs. N. H. Williams was welcomed into their midst. The hour was spent socially and the hostesses served light refreshments. Fifteen ladies were in attendance.

INFANT BURIED HERE

Leslie Nichols, of Jacksonville, Fla., who here Sunday morning with the body of his infant daughter, who was buried last afternoon. Mrs. Nichols was formerly Miss Sissy Williams, and her many friends here will sympathize with her in the loss of her babe.

LANIER-PAFFORD

Marked by simplicity and dignity was the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Lanier, of Brooklet, November 20, of Miss Corinne Lanier and Walter Pafford, which took place at 9 o'clock in the morning at the lovely home of the bride's parents on Zettler avenue, with Rev. W. Park Smith, a close friend of the groom, formerly pastor of the Rocky Ford Methodist church, now of Ludowici, performing the ceremony.

A background of fern and evergreen was banked against the window in the living room and formed a pretty setting for the wedding scene. On each side were tall pedestals holding elaborate and floor baskets holding feathery white chrysanthemums.

Presiding the ceremony Mrs. Cohen Anderson sang, "Sweetest Story Ever Told," accompanied at the piano by Miss Alline Whitehead, who also played the wedding music.

Miss Marion Lanier, who was her sister's maid of honor and only attendant, wore a milkyway dress, finished with a two-toned sash. She carried an arm bouquet of white and blue flowers.

The bride entered with her father, who gave her in marriage. She was crowned in a semi-circular model of white blue and white. A bride's bouquet of roses and valley lilies.

The groom had as his best man his brother, Aubrey Pafford, of Brooklet. The bride and groom received their fifty guests, comprising close relatives, classmates and members of the Rocky Ford faculty, informally in the dining room following the ceremony.

On the pretty table was a lace cloth over white satin, with a silver basket filled with white chrysanthemums and fern forming a centerpiece. On each corner were silver candlesticks. Out-door games were the feature of entertainment. Late in the afternoon the birthday cake was cut and served with iced cups.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. Bess Lovett entertained informally Thursday afternoon a group of youngsters in honor of her little daughter, Betty Bates, who was celebrating her birthday. Out-door games were the feature of entertainment. Late in the afternoon the birthday cake was cut and served with iced cups.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Bea Dot Smallwood entertained at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Smallwood, on Jones avenue, Saturday afternoon about twenty of her classmates and neighbors in celebration of her tenth birthday. Prizes were awarded in numerous games and the favors were shared from a box by a string of punch, cakes and suckers were served.

TO VISIT ATLANTA

Among those going to Atlanta for the week end to attend the Georgia-Tech game will be Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Groover and son, Edwin Jr., and Mrs. Robert Donaldson, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Robert, Miss Mary Sue Atkins, Leola Coleman, Miss Gladys Thayer, Horace McDougald, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Alford.

THE BRIDE

The bride is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Lanier, of Brooklet. After graduating from the Statesboro High School she attended S. G. T. C., later receiving her degree from Vanderbilt. She then spent a year at the University of Georgia, where she was an orator and music in the Rocky Ford school.

The groom is the son of the late Mr. C. T. C. and had been attending graduate work at Columbia and Duke.

FOR JUDGE CITY COURT

I am a candidate for the special election to be held on December 8, 1937, for judge of the city court of Statesboro for the unexpired term of Judge Leroy Cowart. If elected I promise to honestly and impartially administer the law.

Your vote and influence will be appreciated.

CLIVE JONES.

FOR JUDGE CITY COURT

To the White Voters of Bulloch County:

A previous notice I stated that I would be in the race for the judgeship of the city court of Statesboro when the special election was called. The ordinary has called this election for Wednesday, December 8th. It is impossible to see more than a small fraction of the voters by the date named. I will appreciate very much your vote on the day of the election. If elected Judge I will resign as mayor of the city of Statesboro on January 1, 1938, as I have already stated in my first notice.

Respectfully,

J. L. RENFROE.

FOR JUDGE CITY COURT

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of judge of the city court of Statesboro, subject to the rules of the special election to be held December 8, 1937. I was born and reared in Bulloch county, so was my father, Perry Lanier, and my grandfather, Al Lanier. I have practiced law here for fifteen years. I am now forty-two years old and have never asked the people to elect me to any office before, neither have I received any revenue from a public office. If I am elected I assure you that I shall perform the duties of said office fairly, impartially and to the best of my ability. I respectfully solicit your vote and influence in this special election.

This November 10, 1937.

L. G. LANIER.

Some People We Like--

How and Why

That valuable publication, the "World Almanac," says "there are now more than two billion human beings on earth." So far as the Times is aware they are all likeable, but since this scribble is not personally acquainted with all of them, this column will deal only with a few of our each week who come under our observation--and whom we have special reason to like. For instance--

Dog Give Concert

(1) Almost sixty years ago we began our lessons in music. Rode behind the music teacher on horseback as she went to her classes and sort of absorbed music from her, then pondered the piano till we learned the scale--bars, sharps, flats, etc. Later gave a lovely rendition of a concert in the church choir till our hair fell out. This much to indicate that we speak with authority on matters of music. On a recent evening by invitation on business we called at a home where two lovely sisters reside. The bass voice of a dog inside the house greeted the sound of our footsteps on the front porch. "He won't bite," said the ladies chorus. Her blonde was so sure--he ran directly to us, placed his nose blunt against our person and turned around a dog who had been there for some time. We knew he didn't like our flavor, but you can't always be sure a dog won't decide to take a nip if the favor appears. The dog barked a do but the back of the head because he had a high grade of bear grease--but another dog, a fine one, came in conversation and to leave, the lady owner of the show called to the piano. "Now," she commanded, "give the dog a song--a strong tenor call names--May we do it?" And the show reared up on his hind feet, struck the piano keys vigorously, and gave the voice a strong tenor call names--May we do it? But not call names, but it did remind us very much of--But maybe we still hadn't heard the name of the dog, we are determined not to call names. But anyhow, it was an unusual concert. We heard such worse piano music, and exceedingly worse solo music. The dog only played a couple of concerts, one bar each. We like him for that--he is like anybody who knows when to quit singing.

Being Made Anew

(2) We've known this man a long time--almost a half century, and he's been our friend all the while. Last Sunday afternoon we called at his home and found him in bed but in a happy frame of mind; said he was happy because of a new operation, which was something to rejoice over. Then he told us cheerfully how he is coming back to young life, and the old parts of his anatomy cut off and thrown to the wind. "Too many things about us we don't need when we're born," he said. "We're not all born with teeth, but they come along before we're old enough to protest, and when they come in life of getting rid of them. Then the tonsils and the appendix." He told us about having his teeth pulled ten years ago, how he was carrying forty pounds in forty days, said he was carried to the dentist's, and that gentleman told him he'd pull one tooth a day till it was all over. "No, sir," I told him, "you'll pull 'em all at one sitting. If I die while you are in there, you've got a right ahead and finish the job--I don't want to leave this world with anything wrong with me." They all came out at one sitting. Later he got his tonsils out and thought he was safe for all time; but he was mistaken--something had to be done, and that that was to be done. So they carried him to the new county hospital and stayed there for two days and decided to have his stomach. When he left there on a cot his stomach had been disconnected and rearranged. He said he was surprised to wake up and find he was still alive, but was mighty happy. He wonders now at all the operations. We like any man who can survive and be cheerful with such important parts of his body missing; you'd like him, too, if you knew him as well as we do.

Seven Kinds of Fever

(3) The lovely lady sat in her car at the curb Saturday afternoon and spoke pleasantly as we passed her. She had been one of the Times' most valued solicitors in the recent subscription campaign--always cheerful and active. We spoke to her and she told us she had been recently hospitalized for a fever. "The doctor told me I had seven kinds of fever," she said. Her friends were mighty kind to her, she said, and she was in the hospital was a most delightful one. She looked so well it was hard to believe she had been sick at all. We like her for having assisted us in our recent contest and for being so cheerful after her stay in the hospital. You'd like her, too, if you saw her.

Lad Clings To Life

(4) He's a strong-hearted young man who lies at the county hospital fighting again for his dear life. It is not his first hard fight. More than two years ago he was at the point of death; blood poisoning in his leg; an operation and a long stay at the Shriners' hospital in Atlanta; friends much concerned; finally back home on crutches and a long pull to get back on his feet; Thanksgiving Day comes, and the boy walks out into the great open air happy as a lark; an accident sends a bullet through his body; back to the hospital and important organs of the stomach are removed, and another fight for life which is so sweet to a youngster. And he's on the up-grade. We like a boy with determination.
